1. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The subject matter of the claims is allowable over the prior art of records because all prior arts fail to teach or suggest an apparatus for immediately outputting a response of a synchronous system to an asynchronous event, comprising: a synchronous system configured to receive an asynchronous event at its input to produce an output signal with a delay at its output, an advanced calculation unit configured to calculate an output signal identical to the output signal that will be output by the synchronous system in response to the asynchronous event provided at an input of the advanced calculation unit, the output signal being calculated in advance of the synchronous system producing the output signal, and a switching device that selectively passes on the output signal from the advanced calculation unit or the output signal from the synchronous system.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
